

Note by the Chairman.

The grounds of objections in regard to the introduction of the system of proportional representation stated in the dissenting note of Mr. H. B. Gundappa were raised by him at the meeting and fully considered by the Committee. The fifth ground mentioned by him, viz., that even in such an advanced country as England this system was tried in many places but was dropped as it did not get general approval is not correct as a fact. It was introduced in England for election of members to the House of Commons from University Constituencies and still continues.
